LOOKING AHEAD

Only a few more weeks of Summer remain before the tang of Autumn . . . and the calls of ducks and geese will be heard in the sky. Every year we make the same promise . . . to check our guns, our ammunition, our decoys and our personal equipment . . . only to put it off until the last minute. The "dog-days" of August could be used to good advantage this year by making out that "check-list" of things to buy, duck hunting pals to contact and reservations to make. And, while you're about it, why not give a thought to that favorite hunting spot and the hungry migrating ducks that will be dropping in it. Did you do anything to improve the area, in the line of NATURAL Duck Food? Why not spend a few dollars on a Fall planting?

It's a proven fact that ducks will congregate and stay longer over an area that has natural food for them. So, let's LOOK AHEAD . . . for you and your friend . . . and your sons tomorrow. A planting made this Fall will insure good hunting for years to come.
